

SEES END OF RULE
BY REDS IN RUSSIA

John Hays Hammond Forecasts Constitutional Monarchy and Later a Democracy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—There is hope in the near future of a constitutional monarchy and later a democracy in Russia, John Hays Hammond said today before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Mr. Hammond, who several times was called to Russia by the old Government to investigate natural resources, said with "the Prussian pressure" as Russia removed "the present" built by the Bolsheviks would fall and then the "same people" would be able to organize a better government.

"I don't think Russia will go back to czar rule," he said.

"I see nothing that would justify this country counting on any considerable business, Russia has nothing to sell. Russian industry is paralyzed."

Discussing the possibilities of expansion of Japanese activities in Siberia, Mr. Hammond said Japan should have an outlet for its population and trade. He advocated sale by Russia to Japan of a tract in Siberia about the size of California. The territory is rich in iron and coal, badly needed by Japan, he added, and is climatically fitted for colonization.

"I have always been in sympathy with Japan's aspirations in the Far East," the witness continued, "but she probably has overplayed her hand a bit in an effort to get a grip on mainland markets."

NEW YORKER ENDS
LIFE IN BALTIMORE

Edward T. King, Accountant, Arrested After Following Wife There, Commits Suicide.

(Special to The World.)

BALTIMORE, Feb. 17.—Edward T. King, an expert accountant of New York, killed himself yesterday afternoon after his arrest on a warrant sworn out by his wife, charging him with assault.

Mrs. King came to this city a few days ago, returning to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whiteford, No. 3000 West North Avenue. King came here yesterday morning and tried to get her to return to New York, and Mrs. King swore out a warrant.

Arrested at the Whiteford home, King went peacefully to the telephone box. Staff. Vance was telephoning for a patrol wagon when King shot himself in the head. He was dead when he reached Franklin Square Hospital.

SEND TWO WEALTHY
SHOPLIFTERS TO JAIL

General Sessions Judges Also Fine Fourteen Kleptomaniacs and Put Six More on Probation.

Two prison sentences, fourteen fines aggregating $600 and six grants of freedom on probation were today meted out by Justices Freschi, Murphy and Herrman in disposing of a number of shoplifting cases in General Sessions.

Germa Volmer, a short, stout, rather shabbily attired woman wearing huge rimmed spectacles, was given from six months to three years in the penitentiary, her seventh conviction for shoplifting. In her home in North Bergen, N. J., detectives recovered $5,000 of stolen goods, found a bank book with a heavy balance in her favor and $1,200 in cash. William Davis, twenty-four, was given a similar sentence for stealing a $50 ladies' handbag. Samuel Brown, fifty-eight, was fined $250 for stealing an overcoat. He owns several tenements in the Bronx and is reputed to have money.

Levinsohn Freed by Grand Jury. Judge Mulqueen to-day discharged the bond of $1,500 on which Solomon A. Levinsohn, formerly a member of the Mayor's Committee on Rent, was held to await the action of the Grand Jury charging him with grand larceny from Charles G. Jersack, a dealer in automobile supplies at No. 66 Leonard Street. The Grand Jury reported that the transaction in which Mr. Jersack had obtained $150 from him last September was not of a criminal nature.

WOMAN HIT BY AUTO

Motorists Bind Victim's Head With Handkerchief and Then Abandon Her in Freeport, L. I.

Mrs. Charles Faboy of Freeport, L. I., was hit by an automobile last night on her way home alone from a moving picture show. She was left lying on the road for over an hour unconscious, with a severe wound in the head. After regaining consciousness she managed to walk home, where she again collapsed and was discovered early to-day by another occupant of the house.

Two handkerchiefs which had been saturated with water, evidently from the radiator of the automobile, were tied about her head. The handkerchiefs bore no marks by which to identify the owner.
